Project : Gas Leakage Detector

- The system employs a gas sensor that continuously detects the presence of harmful gases in the environment. When a gas leak is detected, the sensor triggers an alarm, activating a buzzer that emits a loud peep sound to alert individuals nearby.
- ESP32 sends an SMS notification to your mobile phone, providing immediate awareness of the current situation.

MINI PROJECT

Project: Animal Rescue System

- It allows users to upload pictures of injured animals which to capture the Geolocation, which immediately notifies to nearby veterinary hospitals for prompt care. It also features a dedicated section for pet adoption, showcasing animals available for rehoming.
- The users can easily make donations through QR codes, providing essential financial support for veterinary services and animal welfare initiatives.

MAJOR PROJECT

Project: MEDICO - Specialized Medicine Guidance & Blood Bank Assistance

- It is a healthcare web application where users can enter symptoms to get disease predictions using machine learning. It offers personalized medicine suggestions, doctor recommendations, and allows users to book appointments.
- The app also features a blood bank assistant to check available blood groups, request or donate blood, and locate nearby hospitals using Google Maps for quick medical support.
